

While we're facing challenging times, the John Howard Society of the Thompson Region has remained committed to providing essential services to vulnerable individuals within our community. As needs have grown, JHS has focused on growth to support people in crisis and plan for supports that will allow individuals and our community to emerge stronger. Over the past year, the JHS has:

- Served 1000+ people in Kamloops
- Provided 70+ rent subsidies to people at risk of homelessness
- Operated 202 affordable housing units
- Delivered domestic violence, skills training, and employment opportunities and programming
- Provided addictions and mental health supports
- Enhanced our commitment to culturally relevant services through the guidance of the agencies Elder
- Commenced construction on a new 60 unit affordable housing complex

This has all been accomplished through the work and collaboration of 85+ staff, volunteers and Board of Directors with a commitment to the agency's mission of creating a safe, stronger, and more sustainable community by supporting people to achieve greater independence.

Our organization continues to grow and offers staff purpose-driven work in a vibrant environment

We invite you to stay connected with us through our website, www.johnhowardbc.ca/thompson-region to learn more about current and upcoming career opportunities.
